Introduction

Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, or national origin in any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance. Several other federal legal authorities supplement Title VI by extending protections based on age, sex, and disability. In addition, the Civil Rights Restoration Act of 1987 clarified Title VI enforcement by mandating that Title VI requirements apply to all programs and activities of federal-aid recipients regardless of whether any particular program or activity involves federal funds. Taken together, these laws require recipients and subrecipients of federal funds to ensure all programs and services are delivered to the public without discrimination.

City of Texarkana, Texas, as a recipient of federal financial assistance, will ensure full compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; 49 C.F.R. Part 21 (Department of Transportation Regulations for the Implementation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964); 49 C.F.R. Part 21; and related statutes and regulations. City of Texarkana, Texas acknowledges it is subject to and will comply with Federal Highway Administration Title VI Assurances.

This plan explains how City of Texarkana, Texas incorporates the requirements of Title VI and related legal authorities into its operations. The plan will be used as a reference for City of Texarkana, Texas and an informational resource for the public.

The plan will be updated every 3 years to reflect changes in Title VI compliance operations.

Discrimination under Title VI

It is the responsibility of every City of Texarkana, Texas employee to prevent, minimize, and eradicate any form of discrimination. There are two types of discrimination prohibited under Title VI and its related statutes: (1) disparate treatment that alleges similarly situated persons are treated differently because of their race, color, or national origin (i.e., intentional discrimination); and (2) disparate impact/effects when a facially neutral policy, procedure, or practice results in different or inferior services or benefits to members of a protected group. The focus of disparate impact is on the consequences of a decision, policy, or practice rather than the intent.

Prohibited forms of discrimination may include, but not be limited to, the following:

- The denial of services, financial aid, or other benefits provided under a program;
- Distinctions in the quality, quantity, or manner in which a benefit is provided;
- Segregation or separation of persons in any part of the program;
- Restriction in the enjoyment of any advantages, privileges, or other benefits provided to others;
- Differing standards or requirements for participation;
- Methods of administration that directly or indirectly, or through contractual relationships would defeat or impair the accomplishment of effective nondiscrimination; or

- Discrimination in any activities or services related to a highway, infrastructure or facility built or repaired in whole or in part with federal funds.

City of Texarkana, Texas efforts to prevent such discrimination must address, but not be limited to, how a program or activity:

- Impacts the public;
- Provides accessibility;
- Provides equal access to benefits;
- Encourages participation;
- Provides services equitably;

Language Assistance and Limited English Proficiency

Individuals with Limited English Proficiency (LEP) are those who do not speak English as their primary language and have a limited ability to read, write, speak, or understand English as a result of their national origin. Under Title VI, these individuals may be entitled to language assistance with respect to a particular type of service, benefit, or encounter.

Per USDOT LEP guidance, as outlined on FHWA's Civil Rights website, recipients of federal funds are required to take reasonable steps to ensure meaningful access to their programs and activities by LEP persons. While designed to be a flexible and fact-dependent standard, the starting point is an individualized assessment that balances the following four factors.

Four-Factor Analysis

Factor 1: Number or proportion of LEP persons eligible to be served or likely to be encountered by the City:

The greater the number or proportion of LEP persons served or encountered, the more likely language services are needed. For the assessment to be accurate it must also include all communities that are eligible for services or are likely directly affected by the City's programs or activities, not only those that live next to a project.

The first step in determining the appropriate components of a Language Assistance Plan is understanding the proportion of LEP persons who may encounter the City's services, their literacy skills in English and their native language, the location of their communities and neighborhoods and, more importantly, if any are underserved as a result of a language barrier.

The City evaluated the level of English proficiency and to what degree people in its service area speak a language other than English and which languages are spoken. Data for this review is derived from the United States Census and the American Community Survey. The census data for 2020 was utilized in the table below.

Safe Harbor Provision

The U.S. Department of Transportation (U.S. DOT) has adopted the U.S. Department of Justice’s Safe Harbor Provision. This provision outlines circumstances that can provide a “safe harbor” for U.S. DOT recipients (and sub-recipients) regarding translation of vital documents. Specifically, if a recipient provides written translation of vital documents for each LEP group that constitutes the lesser of 1,000 persons or five percent (5%) of the total population eligible to be served or likely to be affected or encountered, such action is considered strong evidence of compliance with the recipient’s written translation obligations.

The Safe Harbor Provision only applies to the translation of written documents. It does not affect the agency’s requirement to provide meaningful access to LEP individuals through oral language services.

A vital document is any document that is critical for ensuring meaningful access to the recipients’ major activities and programs by beneficiaries generally and LEP persons specifically. Whether or not a document (or the information it solicits) is “vital” may depend upon the importance of the program, information, encounter, or service involved, and the consequence to the LEP person if the information in question is not provided accurately or in a timely manner.

The data above shows that just one language meets the Safe Harbor threshold –Spanish. The City of Texarkana, Texas is home to 2,317 people (6.9% of the population) who speak Spanish. The number of people who speak other languages and English less than very well all comprise around .1% of the population, with the largest being Asian/Pacific Islander at 99 people being .29%.

Designation of Vital Documents

Based on the limited population of Spanish speakers who also speak English less than very well, the City of Texarkana, Texas designates the following as Vital Documents which will be translated to Spanish. Title VI Policy Statement, Title VI Complaint Form, and Title VI Complaint Procedures.

Factor 2: Frequency with which LEP individuals come in contact with the City:

Consider how frequently encounters with LEP individuals may occur. Additionally, consider events or work projects in the next year, which may increase the frequency with which LEP encounters may occur. Some consideration should be given to City policies, programs, events and projects planned for the next year but generally the nature and importance of LEP encounters should be considered on a project-by-project basis. Moving forward, the City of Texarkana, Texas plans to collect data on the frequency in which LEP persons come into contact with the City's various departments and programs. The Title VI Coordinator will create an annual survey to be sent to each department. Departments will collect data on their contacts with people who need language assistance, and the Title VI Coordinator will review and analyze this data each year. Departments will also be asked to log their use of any type of translation or interpretation services. Thus, by the time this Program is due for an update, the City of Texarkana, Texas will be able to utilize the data on language access needs to help direct future efforts and planning.

Factor 3: The Nature and Importance of the City's Programs, Activities, or Services to People's Lives:

While upcoming TxDOT policies, programs, events, and projects should be taken into account when evaluating potential encounters with Limited English Proficiency (LEP) individuals, it is essential to assess each situation on a project-by-project basis. The nature and importance of LEP interactions may vary depending on the scope, location, and community impact of each project. By evaluating the specific characteristics and potential community impact of each initiative, the City of Texarkana, Texas can take appropriate, reasonable steps to ensure that LEP populations receive meaningful access to information and services, in compliance with Title VI requirements.

Factor 4: The Interpretation Services Available to the City of Texarkana, Texas:

The City of Texarkana, Texas reviewed its available resources that could be used for providing LEP assistance. We have staff available who can translate Spanish. Google translate is able to be utilized to provide quick introductory services. If there is more technical or detailed information that needs to be communicated, a professional translator or interpreter shall be contacted.

A general four-factor analysis will help anticipate and prepare for what may be needed; however meaningful four-factor analysis can only occur on a project-by-project basis. When preparing to publish a document, launch a campaign, hold a public meeting, etc., a focused four-factor analysis should be conducted to determine what type of language assistance is needed.
